Respected Delegates,

You are cordially invited to attend the 91st IMA UP State Annual Conference in the sacred and historic city of Prayagraj.

Known in ancient times as Prayag, this revered land is mentioned in the Vedas and Puranas as Teerthraj — the king of all pilgrimages. It is the blessed confluence of the holy rivers Ganga, Yamuna, and the mystical Saraswati at Triveni Sangam. The city has witnessed centuries of spiritual gatherings, including the world-renowned Kumbh Mela, and has been a center of learning, culture, and freedom movement in India.

Let us come together in this timeless city of faith and heritage for meaningful discussions and academic exchange.

We look forward to your gracious presence.

IMA PRAYAGRAJ WELCOMES YOU

The Allahabad Medical Association (Prayagraj Branch of IMA), was established in 1918 and celebrated its centenary on 29th June 2018 - a historic occasion when the then President of India, Sri Ram Nath Kovind was the chief guest, and also inaugurated the state of art seven storey AMA convention centre.

The branch established a high tech Blood Bank on 7th April, 2003. This has grown into a centre of excellence and gained fame for innovative features like bar coding and biometric registration, which were later adopted by other blood banks. The Blood Centre has till now dispensed more than Ten Lac units of blood and blood components to needy patients, saving countless precious lives. It is now working for establish an old age homes and has already purchased 12,000 Sq yd of prime land for this. The project is expected become operational within three years.

The Branch with more than 1500 members is famous as a vibrant branch with many academic sporting, social and cultural activities. It also organized the National Conference of IMA NATCON in December 2022. It is widely respected as a branch displaying great unity.

Long Live IMA!

Place to Visit

Sangam

This is the point where the brown water of the Ganga meets the green water of the Yamuna, along with the mythical Saraswati, which remains unseen but believed to run underground. It is located about 7 km from Civil Lines, overlooked by the eastern ramparts of the Akbar Fort.

Wide flood plains and muddy banks protrude towards the sacred Sangam. At the mid-river point priests perch on small platforms to perform puja and assist the devout in their ritual ablutions in the shallow waters. A dip in the Sangam water is supposed to be the holiest of the holy pilgrimages for the devout Hindu. Boats to the Sangam can be rented by pilgrims and tourists alike at the ghat near the fort. It is during the Maha Kumbh/Kumbh that the Sangam truly comes alive, attracting the devout from all across the country.

Allahabad Fort

The massive fort built by Emperor Akbar in 1583 A.D. stands on the banks of the Yamuna, close to the confluence site. In its prime, the fort was unrivalled for its design, construction and craftsmanship. This huge, majestic fort has three magnificent galleries flanked by high towers. At present it is used by the army and only a limited area is open to visitors. The magnificent outer wall is intact and rises above the water's edge. Visitors are allowed to see the Ashokan Pillar and Saraswati Koop, a well said to be the source of the Saraswati river and Jodhabai Palace. The gigantic Ashoka pillar of polished sandstone stands 10.6 meters high, dating back to 232 B.C. The pillar has several edicts and a Persian inscription of Emperor Jahangir inscribed on it, commemorating his accession to the throne.

The Patalpuri temple and the much revered Akshaya Vat or immortal Banyan tree are also great attractions for the faithful. Within this underground temple, inside the fort, lies the Akshaya Vat – or the immortal tree. Believed to have been visited by Lord Rama, the temple was also seen by the famous Chinese traveler and writer Hiuen Tsang during his visit to this place.

Akshay Vat

It is located inside the Qila on the bank of the Yamuna. According to the legend it is an eternal truth which will never be destroyed. It is said that anyone who prays at this tree or dies under it attains salvation. The boundary of the fort is 15 feet away from the tree, and its branches hang out into the Yamuna river. In 1992, marble parapet was laid around the tree, and in 1999 a small temple was made near it with the statues of Ram, Lakshman and Sita. About 22 meters of cloth is used for wrapping around the Akshay Vat (the eternal tree that is indestructible) near its roots. It is said that Lord Ram had spent a night near this tree while on his way to the vanvas. It is also a holy site for the Jains. Permission has to be sought from Army officials to visit this tree.

Place to Visit

Historic Hanumanji Temple

In Daraganj locality, on the bank of the Ganga, is the Sankatmochan Hanuman Temple. It is said that Saint Samarth Guru Ramdasji had established the idol of Lord Hanuman Here. The idols of Shiva-Parvati, Ganesh, Bhairav, Durga, Kali and Navgrah are also enshrined in the premises of the temple. Nearby are Shri Ram-Janki temples and HaritMadhava temple. The temple is unique because the idolic place in lying posture. (श्री लेटे हुए हनुमान जी)

Nag Vasuki Temple

This temple is located on the north of Sangam in the northern corner of Daraganj on the Ganga bank. It has statues of Nag Raj, Ganesh, Parvati and a reclining statue of Bhishma Pitamah. There is a Shiv temple in the premises. A big fair is held on Nag Panchami day.

Allahabad Museum

The Allahabad Museum located in the Chandra Shekhar Azad Park (Company Bagh) is among the National level museums of India. A well-kept repository of historical artefacts, paintings, sculptures and photographs sprawl across galleries of the museum. There is a striking statue of freedom fighter Chandra Shekhar Azad twirling his moustaches outside the red -bricked building. The museum is about 3 kms from Allahabad railway junction and almost equidistant from Prayag and Rambagh Railway Stations and about 12 km from Bamrauli Airport. The beautiful location, large sprawling green lawn and nicely laid out garden has given it a special attraction. It was originally established under the aegis of Prayagraj Municipality in 1931 with a small collection of model of birds and animals. In the same complex lies the Gandhi Smriti Vahan which was used to carry the ashes of Gandhi to the Sangam.
